

29. The "Music for All" project is Sally's (brainwash – brainwave – brainchild – brainstorm).
30. Please, (change your mind – make up your mind – be out of your mind – read your mind)! We don't have the whole day.
31. I know I had promised to go with you but something made me (out of – change – keep – make up) my mind
32. I am going to relax and watch a good film. That will take my mind (in – off – of – on) the problem.
33. Thanks, that's a good advice. I'll (slip – keep – change – make up) it in mind
34. Music! That's all you ever think about. You've got music (on your mind – on the brain – out of your head – at the back of your mind)
35. If you don't know the answer, ask my sister. She's (the mind – the brains – the brain – the brainchild) in the family.
36. I built the machine. But it was Steve who had the idea and designed it. So it's his (mind – brainwave – brainchild – brainstorm)
37. Joe – I need help with this. Can I (pick – change – keep – ask) your brain for a moment?
38. We really need to get some new ideas. Let's all sit down and (brainstorm – brainwave – brainwash – brainchild) for a while.
39. (Autistic savant – Autism – Autistic – Special talent) is a developmental condition that affects social relationships.
40. He was mute. He was unable to (hear – see – listen – speak).
41. (Autism – Autistic savant – Autistic – Artistic) is a developmental disorder which causes problems with learning and relationships.
42. A person who is autistic but has an extraordinary ability is an (autism – autistic child – autistic person – autistic savant).
43. A drawing of a post-earthquake city features a city (during – before – after – within) an earthquake.

(2) Rewrite the sentences using the word (s) in brackets:

1. Try not to forget about the meeting. It's of prime importance. (It mustn't ...)
.....
2. Mr. Ramzy was crazy when he got fired from that job. (He was completely ...)
.....
3. I'm sorry. I have forgotten about that file. (it just)
.....
4. How could you know about what I was just thinking? (read)
.....
5. Oh! Sally, that's the third time you change your decision. (mind)
.....
6. The problem with Jane is that she never says what she thinks. (speaks)
.....
7. She's worried about her wedding reception and keeps thinking about it. (has got)
.....
8. To the beach! Yes, you've finally decided! (made)
.....
9. Can I get your help with these problems? (pick)
.....
10. He looks worried about the exams and keeps talking about them. (has got)
.....